JOHN DUNN

presents an illustrated talk about his
“ELLESMERE LIGHT” EXPEDITION

A summer crossing of Canada's northernmost island

Come on an adventure across Ellesmere Island with veteran Arctic traveller John Dunn as he brings the island to life with stories and images from this fascinating 750 km expedition. Over the course of 50 days, John and teammate Clive Rubens relied on some ingenious and lightweight equipment to solve the many challenges posed by a long summer journey in the High Arctic.

John Dunn is a National Geographic published photographer. He has also lectured for the Society. His website is
